EDITORIAL NOTE

Industrial photography reveals a world most people never see – the interiors of factories, the rhythm of manufacturing processes, and the daily reality of the people who form the backbone of modern industry. Photographer Andrejs Zavadskis specialises in industrial documentation, creating images that serve equally for corporate reporting and PR materials as well as artistic documentary projects. The portfolio includes factory interiors featuring massive steel structures and complex machinery systems, manufacturing process documentation from extreme close-up to wide panoramic perspective, and worker portraits that bring a hu...
